Europcar UK, a subsidiary of Europcar Group, the European leader in vehicle rental services and a major player in mobility markets, continues to demonstrate its commitment to the commercial fleet sector with the opening of its new Fareham Van Hub creating a gateway to the south of England. Europcar's national van network is now the biggest in the UK, with 14 van supersites offering customers the widest choice of specialist and standard vehicles, plus delivery and collection within four business hours.

"In the last 2 years, Europcar has significantly expanded its commercial fleet, delivering a much broader choice of specialist vehicles permanently on fleet to meet customer demand," explained Stuart Russell, Specialist Vehicle Director for Europcar UK. "The new Europcar supersite in Fareham offers access to a fleet of standard and specialist vehicles in a location that's ideal for businesses operating all along the M3 and A3 corridors."

The latest addition to Europcar's network of 14 van supersites across the UK, is designed to meet customer demand for bulk orders from 2 to over 20, tackling both short and long term needs for businesses of all sizes. Each van supersite has experts on hand to help small business owners and fleet managers find the vehicle that's right for their specific needs. This expertise, combined with an expanding fleet of specialist vehicles means Europcar to deliver tailor made solutions that support the ever-changing needs of our customers.

Europcar's commercial vehicle fleet comprises a mix of core vans such as CDV, SWB, LWB as well as an unrivalled extensive range of specialist vehicles from Crew Vans to ready to rent Chapter 8 and 4X4 pick-ups. Customers also benefit from an extensive bespoke vehicle fitting service, including internal racking, roof racks, towbars, beacons and tool boxes. Europcar also offers Ford on fleet, with latest additions, the Ford Connect and Ford Transit, bringing customers two of the most popular and reliable models.

Stuart Russell adds, “By investing in our commercial fleet and supersites, Europcar can help more businesses stay on the road, providing replacements for the vehicles that are off for maintenance and servicing. In addition, long-term rental offers an alternative for businesses that don’t want to tie-up capital in vehicle ownership. At a time of economic uncertainty, Europcar offers the flexibility businesses need, with long-term hire at a fixed rate without the commitment a traditional leasing agreement expects. And with a dedicated delivery and collection service, we are going the extra mile to reduce time and keep businesses on the move.”
